DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species 1, specific type of ink or operation of ink print head.

Species 2, specific type of laser or operation of laser.

Species 3, a procedure for aligning an ink cartridge with a laser beam.

Species 4, a procedure for adjusting a cutting speed.

Species 5, a method for making a glued structure.

Species 6, specific type of cutting pattern, printing pattern or source of cutting or printing pattern.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 2854

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species 1, corresponds to claims 31-39.

Species 2, corresponds to claims 40-47

Species 3, corresponds to claims, 51-52

Species 4, corresponds to claims 53.

Species 5, corresponds to claims 58

Species 6, corresponds to claims 66-76

The following claim(s) are generic: 30, 48-50, 54-57, 59-65 and 77-86

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Species 1 is directed towards an inventive concept of a specific type of ink used for allowing a laser to cut through a pattern created with the ink attaching significance to the ink rather the combination of a two print heads and a low power laser.

Species 2 is directed towards an inventive concept of a specific type of laser that is capable of cutting a paper sheet attaching significance to the laser rather than the combination of the two print heads and laser.

Species 3 is directed towards an inventive concept of the method of using the generic combination for aligning an ink cartridge as opposed to relying solely on the recited structure as the inventive concept.

Species 4 is directed towards an inventive concept of the method of using the generic combination for adjusting a cutting speed as opposed to relying solely on the recited structure as the inventive concept.

Species 5 is directed towards an inventive concept of the method of using the generic combination for making a glued structure as opposed to relying solely on the recited structure as the inventive concept.

Species 6 is directed towards an inventive concept of a specific type cutting pattern or source of pattern cut by the generic combination attaching significance to the pattern or source of pattern rather the combination of a two print heads and a low power laser.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
